Ever since the necessifies of the butcher made a demand for fast drivers with endurance, able to pull a plow, street car, hack, and from the am nother has induced people to raise irotters, and by intelligent breeding develop families of trotting horses, it has been the certainty of getting a shalbe all-work horse when breeding for speed if they failed to get speed. It has been the work horse when breeding for speed if they failed to get speed. As a general thing trotting horses are not fast walkers, but in the Texas horse we have the walking gait to perfection. Crossing we think will give das to wakers and speedy trotters. We do not think it advisable to breed our prairie mares tosmall trotting stallions, but if, bred to a horse sixteen hands high, of good form, actionand carriage, with plenty of speed, let him come from either of the rival trotting families, the progeny must be as near the horse we have described as the model thorse to raise for sale and use as it is possible to get, by a short cut and in short time. We think the first cross will be one the horse we want that we will be delightedly surprised.

When we breed to a Hambletonian,
